KNOWING and DOING

Every day, in every way, humans are faced with the need to act.

Reality is the realm of How to bring about, or prevent, a given event.

How is to be understood literally, like a cake recipe.

Beliefs are the realm of Why to bring about, or prevent, a given event.

Why is to be understood depending on context. Honesty is not always the best policy.

Context is the time, place, and circumstances of actions to be taken.

Literal is the ignorance of choosing How and Why to act, despite changes in Contexts.

Flexible is the wisdom of choosing How and Why to act, based on changes in Contexts.

Survival of individuals, organizations, nations, and civilizations depend on Flexibility.
